The Great Race Place will offer six grade I Breeders’ Cup prep stakes over the first two weekends as horsemen will again be afforded opportunities to ready their charges for their respective Breeders’ Cup engagements.

anticipated closure of Betfair Hollywood Park on February 1, 2014, will be stabled initially at Santa Anita, Los Alamitos, Fairplex, and San Luis Rey Downs, and later at Del Mar. The board approved these plans as outlined pending a review of the signed agreement. Final action will be taken at the October 24 meeting.

- The board finalized the 2014 and 2015 racing calendars for Southern California, including five weeks of newly added daytime thoroughbred racing at Los Alamitos subject to enabling legislation being signed by the Governor. The board allocated blocks of dates to the various facilities. The actual racing dates will be determined as each track submits its license application.

As allocated, the 2014 racing calendar will begin at Santa Anita Park on December 26, 2013, through July 2, 2014, followed by Los Alamitos (July 3 through July 13), Del Mar (July 16 through September 3), Fairplex (September 4 through September 23), Santa Anita (September 25 through November 2), Del Mar (November 5 through December 3), and finally Los Alamitos (December 4 through December 21).

The 2015 racing calendar will begin at Santa Anita Park on December 26, 2014, through July 1, 2015, followed by Los Alamitos (July 2 through July 12), Del Mar (July 15 through September 7), Fairplex (September 10 through September 23), Santa Anita (September 26 through October 25), Del Mar (October 28 through December 2), concluding at Los Alamitos (December 3 through December 20).

- Continuing disagreement among stakeholders over the racing calendars in Northern California prompted Chairman Israel to assign the matter to Commissioners Beneto (chair) and Chopper for a possible mediation session in October if the parties do not reach agreement among themselves. However, the board approved the initial part of the 2014 racing calendar in Northern California by allocating dates to Golden Gate (December 26, 2013, through June 15, 2014).
- The board approved the license application for Hollywood Park to run a race meet from November 6 through December 22. Hollywood Park representatives said they are designing marketing and promotion programs in recognition of this being the final meet for the Inglewood racetrack.
- The board authorized Santa Anita to add a purebred Arabian race on the undercard of the Breeders’ Cup program on November 1, subject to enabling legislation being signed by the Governor. The jockeys in the pari-mutuel wagering race will be licensed professionals.
- Commissioner Krikorian, chairman of the Mini-Satellite Wagering Task Force Committee, reported on the August 23 meeting. He said stakeholders are discussing ways to increase the number of wagering facilities throughout the state. In a related matter, the Board approved a regulatory amendment to allow for the granting of licenses to mini-satellites for up to five years.
- Commissioner Derek, chairperson for the Medication and Track Safety Committee, reported on the September 18 meeting. She said the committee is forming an ad hoc committee to consider ways of improving security in stable areas.
- Commissioner Winner, chairman of the Jockey and Driver Welfare Committee, reported on the September 18 meeting. He said language will be provided to the full Board in October for proposed rules to require random drug and alcohol testing for racing participants and to require exercise riders to undergo an annual physical examination.

Hollywood Dreams Threepeats In Red Diamond

Hollywood Dreams, an Alberta-bred son of California stallion Ministers Wild Cat (Tommy Town Thoroughbreds), captured Saturday’s $50,360 Red Diamond Express Handicap at Northlands Park for the third consecutive year.

The 5-year old gelding has seven wins in 20 starts, earnings of $177,134 and was coming off a seventh in the Sept. 7 Sun Sprint Championship.

He ran the 6 1/2 furlongs in 1:19.40 and won by 1 1/4 lengths at odds of 14-1.

Incentives Strong
For Business Investment

The American Taxpayer Relief Act reinstated 50 percent bonus depreciation and increased the expense allowance to $500,000 for 2013. Both incentive programs could have important implications for purchasers of horses, farm equipment and most other depreciable property. Below is a summary of these incentives:

Bonus Depreciation—allows taxpayers to write off 50 percent of the cost of new qualified depreciable property if the property is purchased and placed in service before January 1, 2014. Property is considered new if its original use commences with the taxpayer. Yearlings, for example, may qualify for this incentive.

Expense Allowance—allows taxpayers to write off the cost of new or used qualified depreciable property, up to $500,000, if the property is purchased and placed in service before January 1, 2014. The expense allowance is reduced dollar for dollar once qualified investments exceed $2 million. This incentive also was made retroactive to 2012 purchases.

In addition to yearlings, broodmares may qualify for this incentive. The $500,000 expense allowance and 50 percent bonus depreciation may be used together in some situations. For more information on how to best apply these incentives to your business, download this investment incentive flyer and consult a tax professional.

Tax Tips For Yearling Buyers

For those attending the yearling sales, it is worth looking at the tax incentives that are available to a purchaser of a yearling this year. There are three incentive provisions which can apply: 1) the Expense Provision which allows the purchaser to expense (write-off) all or a portion of the purchase price of a horse, including yearlings; 2) Bonus Depreciation, which allows the purchaser to write-off 50 percent of the purchase price of a yearling; and 3) Three-year Depreciation on the purchase of any racehorse, including yearlings. One or even all three of these provisions can apply to a single purchase provided the horse qualifies and is placed in service in 2013. The discussion which follows is a summary of the three provisions intended to point out the potential tax benefits that might be available to a purchaser. Since, like most tax provisions, they have technicalities which must be met, a purchaser who wants to use one or more of the provisions should consult with their tax advisor to make sure the provision(s) applies to their situation.

Expense Deduction

A purchaser can deduct up to $500,000 of the cost of a horse or horses purchased in 2013, provided (1) the total of all purchases of horses and other depreciable business property does not exceed $2 million and (2) the horse is placed in service by the purchaser in 2013. If the purchase exceeds $2 million, the amount that can be expensed in 2013 is reduced one dollar for each dollar the amount of such purchases exceeds $2 million. To illustrate, assume a person purchases two yearlings at the sale, one for $300,000, and one for $250,000, and made no other purchases of horses or other business property during 2013. The purchaser can expense $500,000 of the cost. The remaining $500,000 can be depreciated using one or both of the depreciation methods explained below. Note that the expense provision applies to purchases of horses of all ages and to other types of business property new or used such as tractors and other farm equipment. Also note that purchases of property used in any business of the purchaser, not just the horse business, is included in the $2 million threshold. One other restriction—the expense deduction can only be used against the aggregate taxable income derived by the purchaser from a business, any business, including compensation earned as an employee.

Bonus Depreciation

This provision allows the purchaser of certain horses in 2013 to depreciate 50 percent of the cost if the horse is placed in service that year. To qualify, the original use of the horse must commence with the purchaser whether or not such use corresponds to the use of the purchaser. This means that yearlings at the sale most likely can qualify, but older horses likely will not. It has been industry practice for many years to treat young racehorses as placed in service when conditioning and training first begins. Thus, under this practice, a yearling would be placed in service when conditioning and training begins. There is no limit on the total dollar amount that can qualify for bonus depreciation provided the yearling(s) are “placed in service” in 2013.

For example, if a purchaser buys and places in service in 2013 for a total cost of $2 million and that was the only purchase of depreciable business property that year, the purchaser could, using the expense provision, deduct $500,000 and take bonus depreciation of $750,000 (50 percent x $1.5 million). The $750,000 balance of the cost would be deducted over a three year period using the regular depreciation rules explained in the next section.

Three-year Depreciation

All racehorses purchased and placed in service in 2013 can be depreciated over a three year period (four calendar years), using an accelerated rate. This means a deduction of 25 percent of the purchase price of a yearling, or neither the expense deduction, nor bonus depreciation is taken, and 50 percent of the remaining balance of the purchase price in 2014. In other words, 62.5 percent of the purchase price of the yearling can be written off in the first two years. If the expense deduction, bonus depreciation, or both are taken, 25 percent of the remaining balance after the other deduction(s) are taken can also be deducted in 2013 and 50 percent of the balance in 2014.

It is noteworthy that all three of the incentives discussed above are scheduled to change next year unless Congress acts to extend or change them. The expense deduction is scheduled to go down to $250,000 next year, bonus depreciation is scheduled to expire altogether, and three-year depreciation for young race horses not over two years old when placed in service is scheduled to go back to seven years. At this point, particularly because of the discussions going on in Congress about reforming the tax code, it is hard to predict when and what Congress might do with respect to these three incentive provisions.

The Jockey Club Releases 2012 Breeding Statistics

The Jockey Club today reported that 2,392 stallions covered 37,908 mares in North America during 2012, according to statistics compiled through September 9, 2013. These breedings have resulted in 22,001 live foals of 2013 being reported to The Jockey Club on Live Foal Reports received as of September 9, 2013.

The Jockey Club estimates that the number of live foals reported so far is approximately 90% complete. The reporting of live foals of 2013 is down 2.2% from last year at this time when The Jockey Club had received reports for 22,500 live foals of 2012.

In addition to the 22,001 live foals of 2013 reported through September 9, The Jockey Club had also received 2,891 No Foal Reports for the 2013 foaling season. Ultimately, the 2013 registered foal crop is projected to reach 23,000.

The number of stallions declined 8.7% from the 2,620 reported for 2011 at this time last year, while the number of mares bred decreased 4.8% from the 39,838 reported for 2011.

The 2012 breeding statistics are available alphabetically by stallion name through the Publications and Resources link on The Jockey Club homepage at jockeyclub.com.

Matt Iuliano, The Jockey Club’s executive vice president and executive director, stated that the breeding statistics are not a measurement of the live foals born in each state or province, but are a count of live foals by conception area, regardless of where the foals were born. He also reiterated that the statistics should not be taken to represent the final fertility record of any single stallion or conception area.

Kentucky annually leads all states and provinces in terms of Thoroughbred breeding activity. Kentucky-based stallions accounted for 41.1% of the mares reported bred in North America in 2012 and 48.8% of the live foals reported for 2013.

The 15,569 mares reported bred to 249 Kentucky stallions in 2012 have produced 10,726 live foals, a 2.1% decrease on the 10,960 Kentucky-sired live foals of 2012 reported at this time last year. The number of mares reported bred to Kentucky stallions in 2012 declined 2.2% against the 15,918 reported for 2011 at this time last year.

Among the 10 states and provinces in which stallions covered at least 1,000 mares in 2012, only Florida and New York stallions produced more live foals in 2013 than in 2012 as reported at this time last year. The following table shows the 10 states and provinces, ranked by number of state/province-sired live foals of 2013 reported through September 9. —From The Jockey Club

Weed Management Plans For Horse Pastures

Fall is a good time to evaluate the quality of horse pastures, because it is easy to see which weeds were most prevalent and uncontrolled during the summer. These weeds will now be large and seed-producing. It is also a good time to develop a pasture weed management plan for the coming year.

An effective weed management plan should consider the purpose of the pasture, weed species and abundance, which weeds should be controlled and how, and sources of information.—continued at www.theHorse.com.

Sires’ Genes
Form The Equine Placenta

The term “do-it-all-dad” just took on a whole new meaning: Cornell University researchers have recently determined that, in equids at least, it’s the father’s genes that take the lead in developing the mare’s placenta.

“We discovered more paternally (than maternally) expressed imprinted genes in the equid placenta, suggesting a greater contribution of placental development from the paternal genome,” said Xu Wang, PhD, research associate in the Department of Molecular Biology and Genetics at Cornell University, in Ithaca, New York.—continued at www.theHorse.com.
